SCHLITZBAUM CONVICTED.

After the Longest Trial in Criminal Annals Here He is Found Guilty.

In the trial of A. B. Schlitzbaum, which was concluded here Wednesday, Hartford saw, perhaps its fiercest legal battle fought to a finish.

Schlitzbaum was charged with embezzling money belonging to Illinois Central Railroad. The embezzlement had its origin in the alleged attempt of J. W. Boatner and A. B. Schlitzbaum to defraud the American Express Company out of $28,000. He has been tried here in the county court for criminal conspiracy, but was acquitted.

This is the second trial for embezzlement, the jury having failed to agree in a former trial.

On the side of the defense were the law firms of Heavrin & Woodward and Glenn & Ringo, while the Commonwealth's Attorney was assisted in the prosecution by Hon. H. P. Taylor. The contest between the attorneys on opposite sides over the examination of witnesses and points of law involved, was desperate and acrimonious throughout the long trial. In all, thirty-two witnesses were examined, Schlitzbaum being on the witness stand six hours. Six days were required to examine the witnesses, while the counsels spent three days in arguing the case to the jury, making nine days in all. The jury was out only about one and one-half hours bringing in a unanimous verdict of guilty, fixing the punishment of the defendant at one year in the penitentiary.

During the progress of the trial a map which had been introduced in former trials, mysteriously disappeared, and when the case was ready for argument, it was discovered that the indictment could not be found. Considering the bitterness of the struggle between the defendant and prosecution, the disappearance of these caused no little comment.

The circumstantial evidence, and even the direct testimony, wove a net work of proof around Schlitzbaum, from which, with all of his tact and shrewdness, he could not extricate himself. While he told a straightforward story, yet he contradicted himself on former trials on several material points, and the other witnesses were contradicted on many points.

To those who heard the evidence the verdict came as no surprise. No one who has investigated the alleged attempt of Boatner and Schlitzbaum to defraud the American Express Co. doubts their guilt, but it was thought by some that they had managed their "game" with such skill and cunning that it would be very difficult to establish their guilt.

During his long confinement, Schlitzbaum has made some friends here who could not but sympathize with him. He came near breaking down when the verdict was read.

The jury which convicted him was far above the average jury, and "Schlitz," as he is familiarly known, should be thankful that his sentence is no longer. No man was ever defended with more zeal and ability at this bar and he has no just reason to complain.

NARROWS, KY.

Nov. 25.—Mr. Roscoe Wedding and Miss Minnie Daniel were quietly married at the residence of the bride Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Celeno Durbin, of Louisville, preached an interesting sermon at the Methodist church here Monday evening. Mrs. Durbin has spent several years in mission work in the "red light" district in Louisville and talks interestingly about her experiences with the moral monsters of that great city. Mrs. Durbin is a sanctified preacher of the Christian denomination.

Mr. Charlie Blacklock took his little four year old son, Goebel, to Louisville last week to have an elder removed from the little fellow's eye. He pushed the pith up his nose two years ago, and although it had not been removed, gave him little trouble until a few weeks ago.

Mr. E. D. Foreman lost a calf by death a few days ago. Ordinarily the death of a calf is not news, but this one was remarkable by reason of a perfect cross on its right shoulder, about which I wrote some weeks ago.

Rev. Salvage began a protracted meeting at Mt. Vernon Sunday night. Rev. Salvage, who is a Methodist minister, at an afternoon service at Oak Grove Sunday, amused his audience by humorously remarking that he had held one protracted meeting since he came to the circuit, at which he had seven conversions and all of them joined the Baptist church.

A Pretty Girl.

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 24.—Miss Ethel Bennett, the pretty and accomplished daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Bennett, of Beda, Ky., was entertained at the Willard Hotel in this city, on November 24, by a number of her friends of the best people here. Miss Bennett is very popular among her new made friends and hope her stay will be long among us, while we know her host of friends at Beda will be glad to see her return.

VOTE TABULATED

Count in Hunter-Edwards Contest Deferred.

The State Election Commission met Monday and tabulated and certified the vote cast in the general election of November 3. The tabulation of the vote in the special election for Congressman in the Eleventh district was postponed until Monday for further hearing. White claims that the election was not legal. Edwards wants all votes for Hunter thrown out because he was not the nominee of the Republican party and had no right to the log cabin emblem. Hunter has a plurality on the face of the returns.

I AM GONE

Will be Out of the Laws Reach by the Time You Receive this Letter--John Heck.

Rockport, Ky., Nov. 25.—(Special)—This was the brief letter received in the city from John Heck, who has disappeared from this place, after obtaining over a thousand dollars by forging the names of prominent people to checks and notes.

Heck forged the name of Dave Rhodes, a prominent farmer, to several checks, and, it is said, that he was arrested at Paradise on the charge, but later, fixed things up and was released.

Some weeks later Heck, it is supposed, after seeing his crimes were going to come to light, left the country, and no trace was found of him until the above letter was received, which, according to the postmark, was mailed in Canada. After Heck had left several other bad checks and forged notes come to light. The banks at Hartford and Mr. Dave Rhodes are the largest losers.

He has a wife and child here, his wife says she intends to go to her husband.

It is not known whether or not an effort will be made to capture Heck or not.

LITTLE GIRL'S BRAVERY.

Thirteen-Year-Old Child Fearlessly Grabs Negro Burglar to Hold Him.

Covington, Ky., Nov. 23.—Waking from a sleep shortly after 1 o'clock this morning, Florence Huenefeld, thirteen years old, boldly grappled with a burglar who was at work plundering the home or her father.

The child had risen from bed to get a drink when she heard a noise in the room of her parents, which adjains her own. It appeared to her to be the low moaning of a cat, and thinking that her pet, which had been allowed to sleep in the house, had laid down too near the grate fire, she hastened to her parents' room to run almost into the arms of a colored man. The terrified girl, fearing for her parents' safety, caught the burglar's hand and screaming to her mother, kicked wildly at his shins.

Aroused by the child's cries, Huenefeld jumped from bed and the burglar fled through a kitchen window.

Outlook Gloomy.

There is nothing encouraging in the Presidential outlook for the Democrats. General Grosvenor, of Ohio, has not missed an election guess in a dozen or more years and he says the Republicans are sure of 263 electoral votes next year, while only 239 are needed. Only 151 are conceded by him to the Democrats, while 62, including New York, are doubtful. The probability is that General Grosvenor has made a very conservative estimate, and that the Republican majority next year will be greater than any one has yet predicted.—Paducah Sun.

BLAKEY ROBBED

Of His Election As Circuit Judge in The Breathitt District.

OUTRAGES AT THE POLLS

The State of terrorism which has existed in Breathitt county for many years continues now to such an extent that little information has ever reached the outside world concerning the manner in which the recent State, judicial and county election was conducted there and the methods adopted to insure the defeat of Theodore P. Blakey for Circuit Judge and James P. Adams for Commonwealth's Attorney to succeed the infamous Redwine and the famous Byrd, respectively.

Breathitt county elections have been a travesty on a free ballot under the rule of the Hargis-Callahan official lawbreakers. In the Goebel-Taylor election, it will be remembered, the late James B. Marcum was Republican inspector of the count in the court house precinct of Jackson which had gone Republican by a good majority. The Hargis-Callahan Goebellites refused to begin counting the vote under various pretexts until hours after the polls closed, the purpose being to wear Mr. Marcum out and get him to relax his vigilance. Finally by preconcerted arrangement the gang began firing pistols into the ceiling of the court house itself in order to put out the lights and create a stampede. In the excitement of the fusillade Mr. Marcum was pushed out of the room and the door locked on him. As soon as he was disposed of the count proceeded and a precinct that had undoubtedly gone Republican by 50 gave an enormous Goebel-Hargis-Callahan majority of 150 to 200, as the writer now recollects.

This is a sample of the election methods by which the Hargis outlaws have maintained their grasp on Breathitt county and made themselves so useful to the State Democratic machine that the entire executive, judicial and military power of the State is at their command.

Stories of the election in Breathitt county a few weeks ago are finding their way out to civilization and are enough to make the blood of honest men boil with indignation.

At Frozen Precinct, the largest Republican precinct in the county, there was a very quiet orderly election with a large vote polled, the Republicans sweeping everything before them, and even the Democrats admitting that the precinct had given at least 100 Republican majority. Just at 4 o'clock, according to the report received here, the Beckham coldiers from Jackson marched into the voting room, ordered the Republican election officers out at the point of the bayonet, proceeded to superintend the count of the vote to suit themselves and the Democratic election officers. They counted all night, but did not announce the result, and carried the ballot box and returns to Jackson. Several days afterwards it was given out from Jackson that Col. Belknap and the Republican State ticket had carried Frozen Precinct by 94 majority, but that Judge Riddell, the Hargis candidate for Circuit Judge and the rest of the Democratic local ticket had carried the precinct by a majority ranging from 40 to 100, which is an absurdity on its face, when practically the only scratching was done by Democrats who voted for Beckham and the State ticket and for the Republican candidate for Circuit Judge, Commonwealth's Attorney and county officers.

This is a sample of one precinct in Breathitt county, and others were worse.

Mr. Blakey, the Republican nominee for Circuit Judge, carried the three Republican counties of Estill, Lee and Magoffin by the splendid majority of 815. The Democratic county of Wolfe gave Beckham 334 majority, but Judge Riddell only carried it by 307. Mr. Blakey went to Breathitt county with a clear majority of more than 500. His friends there, both Democrats and Republicans, say that he carried Breathitt beyond a question, as there was an uprising of the people against Hargis and Callahan, and yet the Democratic machine there counted the county for Judge Riddell by a majority of 700 or 800. Their figures have never become fixed or stationary. Riddell's majority is on the sliding scale.

What is to be done about it? The honest people of Breathitt are very indignant, and are urging Mr. Blakey to contest. But two years ago they had a contest there for county offices, in which a democratic Judge appointed by Gov. Beckham decided there had been such frauds and the election was declared off. But the very man who had been elected by these outrageous violations of law were continued in office by some sort of legal hocus pocus, and James B. Marcum, who conducted the contest in court, was murdered because of his activity in showing up the Hargis-Callahan outlaws.

As the result of the decision of the court the contests for the offices were repeated at the polls this year and the second election was worse than the first.

James P. Adams, of Magoffin county, who was undoubtedly elected Commonwealth's Attorney and counted out, has determined to contest the alleged election of his Democratic opponent, but Mr. Blakey has not yet decided what to do in the premises. He has no personal desire for a long-drawn-out contest for the judicial office to which the votes of the people elected him, and yet he and his friends feels that the outrages perpetrated under "forms of law" ought to be officially exposed and made a matter of court record.—Lexington Leader.

WIG ETIQUETTE

It Should not be too Thick and is Never Worn in Bed—Advice to Bald Headed Men.

The bald headed man who is not resigned to his fate, and who is posted on the etiquettes of wig wearing, adorns himself with a faithful copy of nature which simulates his poverty instead of her wealth. For an artistic wig for a man is usually made thin or nearly bald on the crown, so as to allay suspicion. When the wig is adjusted to the man's head the pink scalp shows through the white net of foundation at the crown, thus leaving a modest suggestion of baldness. This is the first principle of the etiquette of wig wearing—claim too little rather than too much or nature's covering.

This principle is carried to a refinement of perfection by the men who can afford the luxury of buying several wigs, for he may then make the transition from baldness to a semblance of his former self every two or three years, and thus complete the deceptions, which is the aim of all wig wearers.

A cardinal point in the etiquette of wig wearing is that one should not wear his wig in bed. It is not proper! Some, either from motives of health or from an unwillingness to shock the delicate sensibilities of their families, sleep in their wigs. This practice is condemned unhesitatingly. It is unclean! One should substitute for the wig worn during the day a simple night cap of muslin to insure one against taking cold.

In the morning, as the last touch of perfection to the toilet, the wig should be delicately adjusted, and glued to one's head. If this adjustment is carefully made, and if one is wearing a really fine wig, he may defy both wind and sunlight to betray that "things are not what they seem."

This careful adjustment of the wig is a most important point. It requires eternal vigilance, since a single careless adjustment means ruin. Along the edge of the wig of ordinary size are five spots about half the size of a penny where the paste or glue is applied with which the wig is made fast to the head. The paste must be carefully applied, since if it comes in contact with the hair it destroys its life like appearance.

A practice generally observed by the wearers of fine wigs is that of dressing the hair in a variety of ways. This is desirable, since it suggests a natural head of hair, yet this practice is perfectly possible with a really fine wig, every hair of which is separately attacked to the net foundation.—Chicago Tribune.

The Republic of Panama.

Panama was one of the departments of the Republic of Columbia. It embraces the narrowest part of Central America connecting Costa Rica on the west with Colombia on the east. It has an area of 31,000 square miles, or one-fourth less than Kentucky, and a population of 325,000. It is traversed by a section of the Andean range, dividing the Atlantic from the Pacific. It has numerous rivers, falling into both oceans. The largest, the Tuira, is navigable for more than 100 miles. The chief trading points are Panama and Colon.

The Republic of Columbia, from which the Department of Panama has separated itself, consisted of nine departments. It was originally known as New Granada, and has undergone many revolutions, the last resulting in the secession of Panama. The capital of the new republic, the City of Panama, is a place of historic renown. Founded in 1518 by the Spaniards, it was destroyed by Morgan and his English buccaneers in 1671. The new city, built two years later, occupies a site 4 1/2 miles from the old town. Located at one of the most interesting geographical positions in the world, the port of Panama is one of the greatest importance. It is a half-way station for the commerce of Europe and Asia, but is as yet without a direct line to the Asiatic ports. By the way of Colon and the Panama railway it is connected with Europe and the eastern part of the United States by many steamship lines. The list shows the opportunity there offered for American ship-building activity and transportation enterprise. From Panama south there are two ocean lines, the South American Steamship Company and the Pacific Steam Navigation Company. The vessels of the first line go as far south as Valparaiso, Chile, a distance of 3,000 miles. The Pacific Steam Navigation Company is an English concern, with headquarters at Valparaiso. It operates a fortnightly service between that city and Panama. It runs eleven ships. The North American Navigation Company operates a line between Panama and San Francisco, a distance of 3,940 miles. It is an American company, with five vessels. The Pacific Mail Steamship Company is an organization more than half a century old, doing service between San Francisco, the Isthmus and New York, with eleven vessels.

The Panama Railroad is operated under a New York charter. The termini of the road are Colon on the Atlantic and Panama on the Pacific side. The length of the line is forty-seven miles and serves thirty-four stations. The condition of the line is excellent and its equipment ample. Till 1887 the passenger rate between Panama and Colon was $25 in gold. It is now $4 in American gold either way.

The Panama canal will reduce distances between New York and San Francisco from 13,244 miles to 5,299; between New York and Manila from 19,530 to 11,585; between New Orleans and San Francisco from 14,419 to 4,698; between New Orleans and Manila from 19,930 miles to 4,698; between Charleston, S. C., and San Francisco, from 13,179 miles to 4,498; and between Charleston and Manila from 19,465 miles to 10,849.

The Best Remedy for Croup.

(From the Atlantic, N. Y. Daily Globe.) This is the season when the women who know the best remedies for croup are in demand in every neighborhood. One of the most terrible things in the world is to be awakened in the middle of the night by a whoop from one of the children. The croup remedies are almost as sure to be lost, in case of croup, as a revolver sure to be lost in case of burglars. There used to be an old-fashioned remedy for croup, known as hive syrup and tulu, but some modern mother say that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is better, and does not cost so much. It causes the patient to throw up the phlegm quicker, and gives relief in a shorter time. Gives this remedy as soon as the croupy cough appears and it will prevent the attack. It never fails and a pleasant and safe to take. For sale by all druggists.

The Kind You Have Always Bought Bears the Signature of

As an argument for Free-Trade, the Louisiana, West Virginia, Independent, propounds this clincher: "When an infant under the nursing process has grown bigger than his pa, why not take away the bottle and let him feed himself?" That's easy. Uncle Sam let the tool Free-Trade break the bottle once and it cost him dearly before he got another, several of his infants having died in the meantime. Now he proposes to keep it handy by and all his children are entitled to its benefits alike. It is so resourceful that while the grown up infants use it, the little infants come in for their full share and get it. Uncle Sam would be ungenerous to ask permission to act the fool more than once in a generation.

A Sure Thing.

It is said that nothing is sure except death and taxes, but that is not altogether true. Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption is a sure cure for all lung and throat troubles. Thousands can testify to that. Mrs. C. B. VanMeter of Shepherdstown, W. Va., says "I had a severe case of Bronchitis and for a year tried everything I heard of, but got no relief. One bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery then cured me absolutely." It's infallible for Croup, Whooping Cough, Grip, Pneumonia and Consumption. Try it. It's guaranteed by Z. Wayne Griffin & Bros. Druggists. Trial bottle free. Reg. size 50c, $1.00.

Trade unionists in Germany have been trying to keep women from doing certain kinds of work in the factories and foundries, and the unions are generally against the employment of married women when their husbands have work.

THE NEW WOMAN.

It is now just about certain that except in the country and on farms the food of the average American family will ere long be prepared outside of the home. The housekeeping of the future will be nothing like so vexatious as that of the present is. A number of people in Brooklyn are solving the kitchen girl problem by the establishment of and eating club. A building has been rented as a clubhouse. A competent chief and manager takes charge of it at a good salary. He employs waiters and assistant cooks and help. He also prepares the daily menu, sends in to each household represented in the club and gets that family's order for the day. When the family come to dinner or luncheon of whatever the meal may be it is ready for them. Each family get the best the market affords without the slightest worry, and all cooking is removed out of the home. The waiters are paid better than ordinary ones are, and tipping is absolutely forbidden, as it should be everywhere. Thus each household is able to dispense with at least one servant and get satisfactory meals at reduced cost. There is every reason why the same system should be adopted even in villages. The individual family kitchen and cook are doomed. If housekeeping had kept up with other things in the line of improvements we should long since have had the eating clubhouse, maintained by the cooperation of individual housekeepers. Intelligent women determined to keep good tempered can manage it successfully in the smallest hamlet in this land. The enterprise has been tried sufficiently to insure its success. The only trouble has been that the old woman, undisciplined to steady action, has grown weary of clockwork regularity and has wanted to go somewhere else when her turn to manage came. The new woman is drilled to sustained effort and knows nothing can be achieved without it.

A Good Name.

From personal experience I testify that DeWitt's Little Early Risers are unequalled as a liver pill. They are rightly named because they give strength and energy and do their work with ease.—W. T. Easton, Boerne, Tex. Thousands of people are using these tiny little pills in preference of all others, because they are so pleasant and effectual. They cure biliousness, torpid liver, jaundice, sick headache, constipation, etc. They do not purge and weaken, but cleanse and strengthen. Sold by Z. Wayne Griffin & Bro.

Wanted--a Man.

Give ear unto my supplications, O people! Let not this prevalent prosperity And the cause thereof Have any abiding place In your political thoughts. For I swear unto you, O people, That this same internal prosperity Is an enemy to me And everything I stand for. My name and my purposes Are known of all men. I'm the same ignominious creature That fell down past the nail's Of Grover's great toe with my teeth. And forthwith, seeing how things Did begin to turn out, I rose up in my wrath And some other clothes And smote this same Grover With the staff of my indignation. Behold a star rose out of the West, A new star whose ample mouth Uttered many beautiful thoughts, And straightway I did begin to make love Unto this most brilliant orb In all the political constellation. We were wedded, Bryan and me, And it might have been said of us, "Two souls with nary single tho't." But the fat of office was not Forthcoming under his guidance, And therefore my love for him Has turned into dire hate. I am a grass widow Of my own making, And I'm in the market for another Sweetheart Tom Johnson wants to get his arm Around my importance, And Mister Dave Hill ditto; But I don't quite like the smell Of their breath, somehow. I'm fishing for some nice boy Who can prove Republican facts To be nothing but moonshine And can plainly demonstrate That Democratic gas Is the solid staff of life. Hoping to hear from some of you Sweet boys by return mail, I sign myself, Yours truly, Old Lady Democracy. (In want of a man.)

Constipation

And all symptoms and Results of Indigestion

Absolutely removed by the use of

DR. CARLSTEDT'S GERMAN LIVER POWDER

Money refunded if you are not pleased with results; has cured thousands—why not you?

Mr. E. P. Hackett, a prominent merchant of Morgantown, Ky., was a sufferer for years from constipation and indigestion, and was prevailed upon to try Dr. Carlstedt's German Liver Powder by one whom it had done great good. He gave it a single trial, when he began to feel better at once. Armed with this knowledge, Mr. Hackett was surprised to find himself cured of this most dreaded of bodily ailments. He is now a well man and does not use any medicine. If you are afflicted in this manner, give it a trial; it will cost you only 25 cents, and should it not prove as we say the druggist is authorized to refund your money.

Weak Hearts

Are due to indigestion. Ninety-nine of every one hundred people who have heart trouble can remember when it was simple indigestion. It is a scientific fact that all cases of heart disease, not organic, are not only traceable to, but are the direct result of indigestion. All food taken into the stomach which fails of perfect digestion ferments and swells the stomach, pushing it up against the heart. This interferes with the action of the heart, and in the course of time that delicate but vital organ becomes diseased. Mr. D. K. Kiehl, of Nevada, O., says: "I had stomach trouble and was in a bad state of health. I took Dr. King's New Discovery and it cured me. I took Kiehl's Dyspepsia Cure for about four months and it cured me."

Kiehl's Dyspepsia Cure What You Eat and relieves the stomach of all nervous strain and the heart of all pressure.

BLACK - DRAUGHT STOCK and POULTRY MEDICINE

Stock and poultry have few troubles which are not bowel and liver irregularities. Black-Draught Stock and Poultry Medicine is a bowel and liver remedy for stock. It puts the organs of digestion in a perfect condition. Prominent American breeders and farmers keep their herds and flocks healthy by giving them an occasional dose of Black-Draught Stock and Poultry Medicine in their food. Any stock raiser may buy a 25-cent half-pound airtight can of this medicine from his dealer and keep his stock in vigorous health for weeks. Dealers generally keep Black-Draught Stock and Poultry Medicine. If you do not, send 25 cents for a sample can to the manufacturers, The Chattanooga Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tenn.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Jan. 30, 1902. Black-Draught Stock and Poultry Medicine is the best I ever tried. Our stock was looking bad when you sent us the medicine and now they are getting so fine. They are looking 30 per cent better. S. P. BROOKINGTON.

CALEB POWERS

Writing a History of His Life in Louisville Jail.

Will Tell The Story of His Youth and His Experience to Date.

Caleb Powers is writing a history of his life. He has been engaged on the work for sometime and expects to complete the task in two or three weeks.

In his book Powers will outline his experiences throughout his stormy career. He will begin by a recital of the story of his early boyhood, of his environment, the teachings of his parents in the common schools and later at Centre college. He will tell of his career as a college boy and of his fondness for argument and debate. All of this will lead up to his acquiring a fondness for political affairs and the excitement of political contests.

Powers will then give a review of his political life, of all its storms and endless turpitudes. He will tell of his feelings and sentiments during the Taylor-Goebel contest, in which his own position as secretary of State was in issue. In an interesting manner he will tell of his emotions when first accused of the crime of complicity in the murder of William Goebel. The whole will doubtless be an interesting story of the emotions of a man accused of and sentenced to hang for murder.

Powers is writing industriously on this book and is hastening it to completion as rapidly as possible. He has not yet determined whether or not he will sell the volume when finished. In order not to be disturbed by the endless procession of sightseers who come to visit him in his cell at the jail he has asked the jailer to admit no one to his cell without first sending up a card or a note stating the purpose of the visit.

Powers has secured a good desk and ample writing material. The desk is located under a window, which gives him sufficient light to work by during the day. At night he uses a student's lamp.

The convicted man is displaying almost abnormal industry. He arises at 6 o'clock in the morning, eats a light breakfast and works continually with the exception of an hour or two for meals and exercise. He retires about 11 p. m. For exercise he uses dumbbells and Indian clubs and takes frequent lively walks up and down his cell.

Powers has lately succeeded in having copies of his Georgetown speech in his own defense placed on sale in Ohio, Indiana and Illinois. He has also made arrangements for disposing of his speech in other States. He has between 50,000 and 100,000 copies which he expects to sell outside of Kentucky and it is probable that the edition will soon be exhausted.

A Startling Test.

To save a life, Dr. T. G. Merritt, of No. Mehoopany, Pa., made a startling test resulting in a wonderful cure. He writes, "A patient was attacked with violent hemorrhages, caused by ulceration of the stomach. I had often found Electric Bitters excellent for acute stomach and liver troubles so I prescribed them. The patient gained from the first and has not had an attack in 14 months." Electric Bitters are positively guaranteed for Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Constipation and Kidney troubles. Try them. Only 50c at Z. Wayne Griffin & Bros.

Wells in South Africa.

Over large areas in South Africa the surface is streamless, and hence without a visible water supply. By boring to no great depth, though, the desired article can almost invariably be found, says the New York Tribune. An engineer in the public works department of the Cape government says that in the last five years the authorities have made 2,000 boreholes at an average cost of £500 each, and at least three-fourths of these have produced water in satisfactory quantities, the daily output from such wells now being about $3,000,000 gallons. The Transvaal government has also appointed an expert to study local possibilities.

These facts are naturally of interest to manufacturers of well-boring plants who are already doing a considerable business with South Africa, and who may expect to see that business multiplied many times over during the next few years. During 1898, 1899 and 1900 applications for the use of Cape Government drills averaged about 500 annually, and at present, so largely have these applications increased, no fewer than a half a hundred drills are in constant operation, and the government is said to have booked sufficient work to keep the existing plant fully occupied for at least three years, and further applications will therefore have to be met by large increases of plant, and by extensive private enterprise in the same direction.

A Symposium From Life.

"What is the secret of success?" asked the Sphinx.
"Push," said the button.
"Take Pains," said the window.
"Never be led," said the pencil.
"Be up-to-date," said the calendar.
"Always keep cool," said the ice.
"Do business on tick," said the clock.
"Never lose your head," said the barrel.
"Do a driving business," said the hammer.
"Aspire to greater things," said the nutmeg.
"Make light for everything," said the fire.
"Make much of small things," said the microscope.
"Never do anything off hand," said the glove.
"Spend much time in reflection," said the mirror.
"Do the work you are suited for," said the fine.
"Get a good pull" with the ring," said the doorbell.
"Be sharp in your dealings," said the knife.
"Find a good thing and then stick to it," said the glue.
"Trust to your stairs for success," said the night.
"Strive to make a good impression," said the soul.
"Turn the most of your good points," said the compass.
"Be always on the lookout for a snap," said the camera.
"Be every ready to do a good turn for any one," said the crank.
"Never take sides, but be round when you are wanted," said the ball.
"Sacrifice yourself, that through you others may succeed," said the orange.
"Keep a good heart, through you be drawn and quartered for it," said the oak.

Memory Good at 133.

A Philadelphia telegram to the Chicago Chronicle says: Mrs. Mary McDonald, probably the oldest living person in the United States, has celebrated the one hundred and thirty-third anniversary of her birth in the home for aged and infirm colored persons. In spite of her great age Mrs. McDonald has a wonderfully clear memory and relates incidents of Gen. Washington's camp at Valley Ford as if they were the occurrences of a few days ago. Among other things she tells how the patriots were supplied with food by the women of the neighborhood. She was born at Frogtown, near Valley Forge, and reared in a Quaker family, the descendants of which have corroborated some of her statements regarding ancient dates. She has outlived every member of her family. Mrs. McDonald is an inveterate smoker, and one of her chief delights is an after-dinner pipe.

The Cause of Many Sudden Deaths.

There is a disease prevailing in the country most dangerous because so deceptive. Many sudden deaths are caused by it—heart disease, pneumonia, heart failure or apoplexy are often the result of kidney trouble. If kidney trouble is allowed to advance the kidney-poisoned blood will attack the vital organs or the kidneys themselves break down and waste away cell by cell.

Bladder troubles most always result from a derangement of the kidneys and a cure is obtained quickest by a proper treatment of the kidneys. If you are feeling badly you can make no mistake by taking Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy.

It corrects inability to hold urine and scalding pain in passing it, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. Swamp-Root is pleasant to take and sold by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sized bottles. You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful new discovery and a book that tells all about it, both Home of Swamp-Root, sent free by mail. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co. Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

GETTING TO SLEEP.

Some Points About the Art of Wooing Peaceful Slumber.

All conditions must be favorable to sleep. The bedroom should be quiet, dark and airy. In winter it is better to have the window away up than to shut it so that a knife edged draft shall chill an exposed shoulder. The temperature of the bed should be agreeable. Getting to sleep when hungry. A hot water bottle in one case and a piece of bread and butter in the other will help things. I leave it to you to decide which is for which. A warm bed in winter is easily got, but a cool bed in summer is not so simple a proposition. However, a sheet made of straw matting interposed between the regular sheet and the mattress will be found to mitigate sensibly the horrors of a hot night. It preserves the softness and springiness of the bed and yet is pleasantly cool, without being too cool. Personally I find that sleep comes soonest when I have no pillows at all.

The next thing is to relax utterly. Remember that the corner of the jaw is the citadel of tension. While that is clinched no sleep can come. But most important of all is the disposition of the mind so that sleep can come. The reason why we fail in this is the same as the reason why we fail on other things. We do not very genuinely want to succeed. As we lie stretched out after a busy day, there are so many thoughts that we want to chase after that we drop the notion of sleep, though we know that to-morrow is another day on which we can think. It is all very well to say "Dismiss these thoughts." How to dismiss them is the problem that each must solve.—Harvey Sutherland in Everybody's Magazine.

World's Fair March 1904.

Mr. John C. Weber, director of Weber's Military Band of Cincinnati, known as the "Prize Band of America," has composed the St. Louis World's Fair March 1904—and dedicated it to the Louisiana Purchase Exposition. It will be distributed through the passenger department of the B. & O. S-W. R. R. World's Fair Route, at 10 cents per copy.

The music is in sheet form, arranged for the piano, being very handsomely gotten up, with highly illuminated title cover. Mr. John C. Weber is not only a great Musical Director, but he has written some very catchy and popular marches. The St. Louis World's Fair March is his latest success, and will add further to his fame.

Mr. Weber and his great organization of artists has twice defeated all comers in national contests at Elk's Reunions. The latest triumph was at Baltimore, Md., on the 21st of last July, when, in a notable contest, composed of the leading bands of America, won the first prize of $1,000. It is confidently expected that Mr. Weber's World's Fair March will become a popular air during the next year, and every household should have a copy of this music.

Send 10 cents in silver to the undersigned and copy of the World's Fair March will be mailed to your address. Mark envelope—"World's Fair March."

Minutes of Teachers Meeting.

The teachers of Buford Magisterial District met in association at Crow's Schoolhouse November 13, 2003. After singing Mr. Ellis was elected Vice President, and Mr. W. R. Carson was elected Critic.

The teachers were enrolled as they responded.

Miss Nannie Moseley delivered welcome address.

Miss Stella Tanner recited.
Mr. T. Wade Stratton discussed, have you found your calling, in a very able manner, said he feared he had not found his calling. But when a person found it, should pursue his work with determination. Should follow his own tendencies, and after having found his calling or chosen his profession should exert himself to the utmost to make it a success.

Mr. C. K. Carson discussed, would you allow beginners in arithmetic a text-book, Why? Doesn't use a text book; thinks the pupils cannot grasp the thoughts expressed in text sufficient by and prefers using symbols. Recitation, Allie Fielden.
Alex Porter gave a talk on his method of conducting a school, said try to get the pupils interested. Rule by kindness. Used that first in every case.

We were then adjourned for noon. Recitation, Mattie Moseley.

A. E. Ellis gave an excellent talk on how to teach Geography, try to explain every subject so as to cause them to think.

We had an interesting talk from Mr. W. R. Carson on what was it Monday that made you so prompt on Tuesday.

Miss Nannie Moseley discussed very ably, how to secure a school. Then had critics report and after President thanked the people at Crow's for kind hospitality we were adjourned. A. E. ELLIS, Pres.

FARMERS' INSTITUTE

Will be Held at Calhoun December 4 and 5.

Col. Ion B. Nall, State Commissioner of Agriculture, will hold another one of his interesting Farmers' Institutes at Calhoun, in McLean county, December 4 and 5. The program includes a number of first class papers on subjects in which all farmers are deeply concerned to be read and discussed by those who have made a success of farming. One of the important features during the institute will be a corn and tobacco show under the auspices of the Farmers' club of McLean county. Col. Nall is chairman of the agricultural and horticultural committee of the Kentucky Exhibit Association, and has offered two cash prizes for the best white corn shown, two for the best yellow corn and three for the best tobacco displayed. Any grower in McLean or adjoining counties may enter the competition. The samples shown will be taken to the World's Fair in St. Louis next year for Kentucky's exhibit.—Inquirer.

DEATH CHECKED MESSAGE

Horrid Tragedy Enacted in Lonely Telegraph Tower.

W. H. Clendenen, a telegraph operator at Brown, Pa., a station fifteen miles north of Williamsport on the Beech Creek division of the New York Central Railroad, was found dead in the telegraph tower. Shortly after 8 o'clock the operator at Oak Grove, Pa., on the same road, received this message from Clendenen:

"Send switch engine quick to me; I am being murdered by—." The wire opened and not another word came. A switch engine was sent to the scene and reached Brown in a short time. The body was found lying under the desk, the head crushed in. A bloody spike maul lay on the floor beside it. Robbery apparently was the motive, the watch and money of the operator being missing. Clendenen evidently recognized his assailant and was about to wire his name when he was struck dead at the key.

Stepped Against a Hot Stove.

A child of Mrs. Geo. T. Benson, when getting his usual Saturday night bath, stepped back against a hot stove which burned him severely; the child was in great agony and his mother could not do nothing to pacify him. Remembering that she had a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm in the house, she thought she would try it. In less than half an hour after applying it the child was quiet and asleep, and in less than two weeks, was well. Mrs. Benson is a well known resident of Keller, Va. Pain Balm is an antiseptic liniment and especially valued for burns, cuts, bruises and pains. For sale by all druggists. m

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 27.

OUR NEW GUISE.

We greet you to-day in our new form, many of our readers and patrons will there be, who can hardly realize that it is really the "Old HARTFORD REPUBLICAN," for in our new form we present quite a different appearance.

Many of our readers have, at our earnest solicitation, given us their views as to the best way to make THE REPUBLICAN a better and more admirable paper, and they, who have expressed themselves in the matter, have, with few exceptions, recommended that we increase the volume of our reading matter.

We recognized the fact, ere these inquiries, that each week good and valuable news items fell by the wayside because of our insufficient space and we have long been considering the virtues, conveniences and beauties of an eight-page paper as the means of serving our readers and patrons in a more agreeable and satisfactory manner than we have been able to do in our old style; and in distending our pages from four to eight, we hope to give to our readers such additional reading matter as to more fully merit their continued patronage and that the general public will feel an increased interest in us to that extent that we may glean from it additional patronage and support.

With best wishes for all we greet you. Note our career, whether lowly or exalted.

The Hartford Herald says:

If the Kentucky Legislature should pass an educational ballot law, it would jar the Republican party of Ohio county out of several hundred votes, and make both the State and county Democratic for all time to come.

Now brother, you should not have said so much for you have hurled to the public the only reason why the Democratic Legislature proposes to pass an educational ballot law. "It would jar the Republicans of Ohio county out of several hundred votes." Would it? A clear case of proposed legislation of the most excessive partisan nature. Democrats recognize their inability to defeat the Republican party of Ohio county by just and fair means, so they propose to pass a law that will disfranchise hundreds of Republican voters. It is becoming manifest in this county as it has long been in most parts of the State, that Democrats propose to win, even if they have to eak bitter partisanship into our supposedly impartial Legislature, to help accomplish what boodle and other corruptible means has failed to do.

VIOLATORS of election laws are a criminal class of no less odium than the highwayman or the murderer. They strike a death blow to American society, which relies for security and endurance on the freedom of every American citizen to vote, as his conscience dictates, and his right to have that vote counted as cast. The ballot box stuffer, the fraudulent counter of votes and intimidator are all as much enemies of peace, order, safety and happiness as the burglar or the assassin. If the ballot box be corrupted or degraded in any way, lawlessness is installed in the Legislature and on the bench. Can anyone fail to be aware of the result? The Legislator elected by unfair and lawless means, will legislate, the Judge obtaining office in the same way, administers the law for the favor and benefit of those whose crimes placed him in power. It is simply a routine business—lawlessness begets a disregard for law and order.

In a recent uprising of Philippine Moros in Jolo, three hundred were slain outright and remained on the field, many wounded, dead and dying were carried off by the insurgents. Gen. Leonard Wood led the American troops and directed their movements during the five days of severe fighting. Only six Americans were wounded.

BLACKBURN, Beckham and Weisinger seems to be the Democratic probabilities for the United States Senate. Of these three Beckham will win by the cohesive power of the machine. That will leave Bill Thorne Governor of Kentucky. All this does not indicate that Kentucky Democracy is ready for a change to higher aspirations and better men.

DEMOCRATS are still trying to fix upon an issue for future campaigns, but according to the latest dispatches they are beginning to split again on what shall be the issue. Why not let Mr. Bryan determine the paramount issue for Democracy a third time.

OWENSBORO is to have free library. Secretary Archer, of the business Men's Association, has received notice that Andrew Carnegie is ready to pay over his donation to maintain the institution. Work will begin in a short while on the $30,000 library building.

THE lower house of congress passed the Cuban reciprocity bill just ten days after convening in extra session for that purpose. It is now up to the senate to pass the bill. It will then be sent to the President and receiving his ratification, it becomes a law.

CHARGES have been preferred against nineteen members of the Louisville fire department for alleged looting, indulged in by them during the recent burning of the Old Masonic Temple.

THE passage by Congress of the Cuban reciprocity law, will mark the completion of the promise made to the Cuban people by our martyr President, McKinley.

SIX weeks is a very short while for us to rest, but Bryan can only stay in Europe that long. So we will have to try hard to rest before his return.

THE James Howard case now pending in the Kentucky Court of Appeals, was continued until the first of January.

Duel to the Death.

Edmonton, Ky., Nov. 23.—R. E. McCandless and George E. Price fought a duel to the death here this afternoon. Both men had pistols and emptied them at one another at close range. A Remarkable case.

One of the most remarkable cases of a cold, deep-seated on the lungs, causing pneumonia, is that of Mrs. Gertrude E. Fenner, Marlon, Ind., who was entirely cured by the use of One Minute Cough Cure. She says: "The coughing and straining so weakened me that I ran down in weight from 158 to 92 pounds. I tried number of remedies to no avail until I used One Minute Cough Cure. Four bottles of this wonderful remedy cured me entirely of the cough, strengthened my lungs and restored me to my normal weight, health and strength." Sold by Z. Wayne Griffin & Bro.

Coughs

"My wife had a deep-seated cough for three years. I purchased two bottles of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, large size, and it cured her completely."
J. H. Burge, Macon, Col.

Probably you know of cough medicines that relieve little coughs, all coughs, except deep ones!

The medicine that has been curing the worst of deep coughs for sixty years is Ayer's Cherry Pectoral.

"PROFOUND THOUGHTS."

A Former Ohio County Citizen Addresses us in Words of Wisdom.

EDITOR REPUBLICAN:—Observing an article in your paper embodying the contents of a letter written by one Ohio county friend to another and bearing the title, "Profound Thoughts" is certainly entertaining to any one that has been enabled to push aside for a moment the curtain that obstructs from view a world, as it seems, and our world as it really is. Being a citizen of Ohio county for more than four years and having many acquaintances there, I naturally enquire to whom are we indebted for the deep thoughts contained in this article. Surely this is a time in our world's history when every one should think of the deeper things of life. Too many are contented to remain on the surface of life's sea, therefore few delve beneath, very few, if any, ever reach and dredge, the very bottom, as it were, and breathe the atmosphere of a hidden world, enjoyed only by those that live, not for self alone, but for the good of their fellow-men.

The life history and teachings of such men always find a bright page in the history of world. Thousands of men breathe, move, live, pass off the stage of time, and are heard of no more. Why, because they did not partake of the good in the world and none were blessed by them, none could point to them as the means of their relief from distress, not a line they wrote, not a word they spoke could be recalled, and so they perished, their light went out in darkness and they were not remembered more than insects of yesterday.

Such men would never have opened the secret chambers of the mighty deep, and extracted its treasures and made the raging billows their highway on which we ride as a tame steed. They would not have claimed the elements of fire and water to the crank and at our bidding compel it to turn. They gave us not the forked lightning as our play thing, all of which we owe to the deep thinkers of our scientific and mechanical world.

Were it not for the sacrifice of selfish desire and the great interest manifested by some, the race of mankind would perish. We must aid each other in order to bring about the desirable conditions, and solve the great problem of life. From the time that the mother binds the child's head till the moment some kind assistance wipes the death damp from the brow of the dying, we cannot exist without mutual help. It is just as important to learn to let go as to hold on.

Anything that is an impediment or a hindrance to the elevation and upbuilding of mankind in general should be expunged from our minds.

Life is too short to dwell upon things other than those of benefit. If we keep the mind filled with the things only which can help mankind up and on in the world, progress for the better conditions is the sure result.

We need all we can get of knowledge, sunshine, encouragement and inspiration in this life. I too can say careful and systematic study of well selected authors, embodying all the sciences, adding revelation, is the proper course for our seeking knowledge of the hidden things of life that we may be more perfect in judgment. I myself have neglected these studies and have but a glimpse of the things I should be very familiar with, have never penned but few lines for the public eye and will here state, if these few thoughts gathered at random and written the same do not stand the righteous attack of criticism, willing am I for them to be trailed in the dust of oblivion. CUBAN BILL

PASSED BY THE HOUSE

By a Rising vote of 335 to 21.

Every Effort of the Democrats Under Leadership of Williams Defeated.

The House of Representatives, ten days after assembling in extra session in obedience to call of the President, passed the bill to make effective the Cuban reciprocity treaty by a vote of 335 to 21. The dissenting votes were about equally divided between Republicans and Democrats, but there was no record vote, the minority having too few votes to order the yeas and nays.

The Democrats, under the leadership of Mr. Williams, sought to the last to secure amendments to the bill in accordance with the action of the Democratic caucus, but were defeated steadily. Mr. Williams made the final effort when he tried to have the bill recommitted to the Ways and Means Committee with instructions to amend, but a point of order under the special rule providing for a vote on the bill without intervening motion, was sustained.

Mr. Williams closed the debate for the Democratic side and made an argument of the Republican policy of protection.

McCall, Republican of Massachusetts, made the closing speech on the Republican side, others speaking on that side being Mr. Hepburn, of Iowa, and Watson, of Indiana. Mr. Broussard, Democrat, of Louisiana, opposed the bill and Mr. DeArmond, Democrat, of Missouri, supported it. The announcement of the passage of the bill caused only a slight demonstration.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address, F. J. Best Liniment on Earth.

I. M. McHany, Greenville, Tex., writes, Nov. 2, 1900. "I had rheumatism last winter, was down in bed six weeks; tried everything, but got no relief, till a friend gave me a part of a bottle of Ballard's Snow Liniment. I used it, and got two more bottles. It cured me and I haven't felt any rheumatism since. I can recommend Snow Liniment to be the best liniment on earth for rheumatism." For rheumatic, sciatic or neuralgic pains, rub in Ballard's Snow Liniment, you will not suffer long, but will be gratified with a speedy and effective cure. 25c, 50c and $1.00 at J. H. Mrs. Jno. G. Keown Dead.

Mrs. J. G. Keown, after a lingering illness of several months, died at an early hour Wednesday morning. The immediate cause of her death was the dreaded "Brights Disease."

Mrs. Keown was one of God's noble women; by nature gentle, kind and lovable. She bore the pain of her extended illness without a murmur, as only one of God's children can. She was a devoted christian, having been a member of the Methodist church for a number of years, and had, during that time, done much to advance the cause of her chosen faith and had endeared herself to the whole citizenry of our town and to all who knew her.

She leaves a husband, all bowed down with grief, an infant son, relatives and innumerable friends to mourn her loss.

Funeral services were conducted at the Methodist church by Rev. W. T. Miller at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon in an appropriate and impressive manner, after which interment took place in Oakwood Cemetery.

A Good Citizen Dead.

John F. Felix died at his home about two or three miles east of this place Tuesday night. He had been sick a long while of typhoid fever, and was thought to be getting along well, but an unexpected hemorrhage consumed his strength and death ensued almost before his friends were aware.

Mr. Felix was one of the county's best citizens and in his death his family and friends have sustained an irreparable loss.

THE REPUBLICAN extends tokens of sympathy and condolence to the bereaved ones.

Little Child Burned.

The three-year-old daughter of Mr. John W. Sanderfur, who lives in the No Creek neighborhood, came near burning to death Monday afternoon. The little one was playing near the fire and attempted to light some paper which she held in her hand, by bringing it in contact with the fire in the grate. This brought her so near the fire that her clothing were soon in flames. The mother was summoned by cries of pain and extinguished the child's clothing as quickly as possible, but not until the little one's breast, hands and face were burned so badly that the skin left the flesh. Dr. A. F. Stanley was summoned and dressed the wounds and at last reports she was doing as well as could be hoped for.

ROBBERY AT MDISONVILLE

Skeleton Keys Found on Men Accused of Crime.

Madisonville, Ky., Nov. 25.—The grocery store of R. H. Palmer was robbed here during the night of $10 in cash, and a few hours after the robbery two strangers were arrested by Constable Daddy and a number of old coins, which had been taken from Palmer's cash drawer, were found on them. In addition to the coins skeleton keys of all sizes and shapes and a United States mail boy key were found. The men refused to tell their names and would not talk. It is believed they came into Madisonville on the Illinois Central freight train.

Thad Barnard, Beaver Dam, was a member of the Federal grand jury at Owensboro during the term of Federal Court there this week.

Loss of Flesh

When you can't eat breakfast, take Scott's Emulsion. When you can't eat bread and butter, take Scott's Emulsion. When you have been living on a milk diet and want something a little more nourishing, take Scott's Emulsion.

To get fat you must eat fat. Scott's Emulsion is a great fattener, a great strength giver.

Those who have lost flesh want to increase all body tissues, not only fat. Scott's Emulsion increases them all, bone, flesh, blood and nerve.

For invalids, for convalescents, for consumptives, for weak children, for all who need flesh, Scott's Emulsion is a rich and comfortable food, and a natural tonic.

Scott's Emulsion for bone, flesh, blood and nerve.

We will send you a free sample.

Be sure that this picture in the form of a label is on the wrapper of every bottle of Emulsion you buy.

Here, Friend!

GIVE US YOUR EAR FOR A FEW MINUTES.

We want to talk to you about DRESS GOODS, and we want to show you what a splendid line we have.

First, we will talk about our line of ten-cent Coverts for Shirt Waist Suits. These goods come in dark red and brown mixed, dark green, dark blue and white mixed. Just the thing for street wear, school wear and other serviceable wear.

For Coat Suits, we have all the latest Novelties, ranging in price from 50c to $1.75. Our fifty-cent line is the best to be found anywhere. These come it strictly all wool. Colors—dark green, medium and dark brown, navy, cardinal and black. Beautiful quality (50-inch) medium dark blue Lustre at 75c. Also a full line of black Lustres from 50c to $1.00. A fine line of black Dress Silks in Taffeta and Peau de Soie. Also an elegant line of colored Silks for Waists at 75c and $1. All colors in Velvet for Waists. A Velvet Waist is quite the newest thing out, and there is nothing better for service.

A handsome line of Vestings for Shirt Waists. Delicate shades of blue and pink fleece P-ka at 15c a yard. Old rose and white in very heavy quality at 25c per yard. Yard-wide Madras (beautiful) only 10c a yard—regular 15c grade.

Our ready-made Underskirts are to be had in Knitted Wool, Flannelette and black Sateen, ranging in prices from 50c to $2.25. Also a nice line of Tailored Skirts. These are splendid values, ranging in prices from $1.50 to 8.00.

Now, don't think because we are talking Dress Goods that we have nothing but Dress Goods, for we have as large a stock of Clothing as any house in Ohio county, and if you will only come in and look through we can save you money. We do not mark up prices in order to fall. We simply mark our goods in plain figures at a close price and treat everybody alike. Big lines of Children's Suits, Boys' and Youths' Suits, Overcoats and Rain Coats. A splendid line of Overalls. Call for the "Diamond" brand.

Don't forget that we make Millinery a specialty and give the closest prices.

And as for Shoes and Boots and Rubber Footwear, we have always been leaders in this line and we will continue so. Come to see us.

THE CAMEL'S HEAD.

"Where the camel's head goes his body follows," says an Oriental proverb. It's the same way with disease. A small opening will give it an entrance and when disease once has a place in the body a large number of ills may follow it.

The opening for disease is often found in a "weak" stomach. When the stomach is "weak" the body also becomes weakened by lack of nutrition, and disease attacks the heart, liver, lungs, kidneys and other organs.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery makes the weak stomach strong. It cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition, and so enables the body to resist or throw off other diseases.

Men and women who are sick are invited to consult Dr. Pierce, by letter, free, and so obtain without charge the opinion of a specialist on their ailments. All correspondence strictly confidential. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

"For the past two years I have been a very sick woman," writes Mrs. Chesley of 108 Woodland Ave., Cleveland, Ohio. "I tried medicines from doctors and to no avail. At last I decided to try Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. When I started I was all run-down and had a very unpleasant taste in my mouth. Was choked up, and at times it was very hard for me to breathe. I had severe headaches and cutting pains in my back and sides. Everything seemed to be against me. I was not able to do my work and I am happy to say I feel like myself again. I can go up and down stairs and perform my duties as well as any one. Everything seems to be brighter, and I can assure you that life is worth living."

"Do not substitute for 'Golden Medical Discovery.' There is nothing just as good for dyspepsia or debility. Biliousness is cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets."

439,233 VOTES.

The constitutional amendment carried by a majority of 19,452.

MARRIED INDIAN LOVER.

Pretty Society Belle Surprised Her Friends and Relatives.

Miss Annie Snyder, a pretty society belle of Arcola, Ill., and Frank Cayon, a full-blooded Indian, created a genuine sensation at Arcola by eloping, their marriage having taken place at Tuscola. Miss Snyder is the daughter of William Snyder, a wealthy resident of Arcola and a granddaughter of Henry Snyder, cashier of the First National Bank of Arcola.

The groom is a graduate of the Carlisle Indian school, where he played on the football team for four years and was quite prominent in other departments of athletics. For three years he has been attending the University of Illinois, where he has been assisting in coaching the class teams and also the 'varsity team. The young people have gone to Chicago on a brief wedding trip.

Bullet in Lung 14 Years.

Miss Adella Nelson, twenty years of age, who lives near Selma, Mich., when six years old, was struck in the right side of her face by a bullet from a 32-caliber revolver. The bullet glanced downward and was lost until a few days ago, when, in the midst of a coughing spell, the bullet was coughed up, evidently from the woman's right lung. During recent years Miss Nelson suffered from irritation caused by the foreign substance in her lung, and it was thought that she had consumption. Since coughing up the bullet, however, her health has improved.

For sick headache try Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets; they will ward off the attack if taken in time. For sale by all druggists.

SAMPLE TRUTHS.

Which Would Sound Very Strange If the Newspaper Editor Never Lied.

It has been said that editors use whitewash brush in obituaries, and dare not tell the truth about the dead or living. This is not a fact. The editor simply wants to make the living feel as good as he can, and as snare grief with taffy. Occasionally we are willing to tell things just as they are in detail. How will the following do for a start:

"Died, Thomas P. Nogood, aged 39 years, 6 months and 13 days. Deceased was a red headed sun-of-a-gun, who stole chickens and had a whiskey nose on him. He owed Lewis for the clothes he was buried in, and Treganza had to get the coat of the casket out of the county. Deceased was a mild-mannered pirate, with a month for booze and eye for boodle. He came here in the night with another man's wife, and joined the church the first chance. He owed us several dollars for the paper, a big meat bill, and you could hear him pray six blocks. He died singing, 'Jesus paid it all,' and we think he was right, as he never paid anything himself. He was buried in an asbestos-lined casket, and his many friends threw in palmleaf fans, as he may need them. His tombstone will be the favorite roosting place for hell divers and hoot owls. Let him R. I. P. (rest in peace.)"

"Born, to Mr. and Mrs. Joe Bloomberger, a son, weighing ten pounds. This one has two legs, and fortunately hasn't a hair-lip or bat-eyes. This is the tenth one now living, if none of them have starved to death since our last issue. Joe hasn't done a day's work in three years, unless forced to by his neighbors, who are taking care of his wife. He owes every man in town, and is universally detested. Mother and child doing as well as could be expected."—Washington Democrat.

NEARING COMPLETION

New Kentucky Home in St. Louis will be Completed December 15.

The "New Kentucky Home" at the St. Louis Fair will be finished before December 15.

Beyond any doubt the Kentucky building is the handsomest State structure on the grounds, with the possible exception of that being erected by Missouri, which is to cost four or five times as much as the one being put up by the Kentucky Exhibit Association. As to the site, no State building on the grounds has a view equal to Kentucky's. The lawn plan contemplates the building of two wide walks to the main entrance of the Kentucky building, with an elevated flower bed between the walks. To the right is formed an attractive "shady nook." The lawn will be sown in blue grass about the first of December, and early next year several car loads of Kentucky shrubbery will be planted.

NEW CONSUMPTION CURE.

Remarkable Success Attends New Treatment by Russian Method.

Remarkable cures of consumption have recently been effected in Russia by Kisel Zagoranski, formerly a mining engineer and now specially licensed by the Russian Medical department to practice medicine in cases of tuberculosis. Zagoranski has given the Associated Press an account of the origin of his consumption cure, from which it appears that thirty years ago he was sent to Siberia to superintend extensive mining works. The medical facilities there were extremely limited and Zagoranski himself attended to the medical wants of the workmen to the best of his ability. An old foreman of the mine, however, always took care of the tuberculosis cases and almost invariably cured them. The foreman died some years ago, confiding his tuberculosis specific to Zagoranski, who continued to use it.

LAURA KEENE'S DREAM.

A Vision In Slumber That Was Turned Into a Reality.

Stuart Robson used to tell a strange story of Laura Keene, with whom he played in the sixties in the last century. "The sight of a bottle of red ink was enough to upset her for a week," he said. "On one occasion we were playing a farce called 'The Lady and the Devil.' An important scene of it was when she was sitting at a table preparatory to writing a letter. I, as her servant, stood at the back of a chair. 'Take your right hand off that chair,' she whispered. The stage dialogue proceeded. 'You are sure you can find Don Rafael at his lodgings?' 'Yes, madam; his servant tells me his wounds will confine him to his bed for a week.' 'Is this the only paper that we have?' 'Where is the ink?' 'Here, madam.' And I bent forward to place the ink within her reach, when, in my confusion at her reproof, the vessel was upset and its contents trickled on to the lap of her satin dress. The ink was blood red. I shall never forget the ghastly look that overspread her face, and I was so frightened that I never knew how the scene ended."

"The next morning at rehearsal she told me I was doomed to ill luck for the remainder of my days. She called the company together and gave them a detailed description of the 'awful scene' the night before occasioned by the young man who would never make an actor. She told of a terrible dream she had had in which some great person had been foully murdered before her eyes; how she had attempted rescue without avail; how he had fallen dead at her feet, and how his blood slowly oozed into her lap. It was two years after this that Miss Keene was playing at Ford's theater, Washington, on the occasion when Abraham Lincoln was shot. Miss Keene was the only person who seemed to realize the situation. She ran to the box, and in a moment the head of the dying man was in her lap, while the scene of her dream was being pitifully enacted."—Argonaut.

THE TOO EARLY BIRD.

A Social Nuisance For Whom There Is No Excuse.

The too early birds are a source of trouble and inconvenience to the entire neighborhood. Invite the too early birds to a dinner, and they arrive an hour before the time.

Your last little touches have to be delegated to the first amiable soul who appreciates the misery of entertaining the too early birds. You had intended to replace a vase of carnations with one of roses or possibly you had at the last moment intended to shift the plate cards, having suddenly remembered that Miss Jones had a quiet fancy for Mr. Smith; that Mr. Smith reciprocated.

Mr. Smith will have to wonder, and Miss Jones will have to summon up her presence of mind and conceal her disappointment. The too early birds must be greeted as though you were glad to see them and appreciated their apparent impatience to have the fun begin.

You really would like to give your hair another touch, but not so. Your guests await you.

The too early birds haunt the railway stations hours before the train leaves and start off on the journey jaded and out of sorts.

If the too early birds are ever amiable it is at such a "previous" hour that the rest of mankind is elsewhere, and the fact is not generally appreciated. If there is one class of humanity more exasperating than the too early birds I have yet to meet them. The man who is too late may entail inconvenience, but at least you have the satisfaction of noting his discomfiture at missing the train through his own act.

The too early birds are an infliction, and they carry with them no compensating reflection whatever.—Pittsburg Chronicle-Telegraph.

Easter In Russia.

Easter in Russia is the greatest festival of the year. Russian Christmas presents are as nothing compared to those given at Easter. Eggs are of course the principal feature, and not till now has seen the Easter bazaar in the Gostinod Door and the shops on the Nevsky Prospect is it easy to imagine the beauty and daintiness of Easter productions. Fortunes in trinkets, laces and jewels are spent on the contents of the eggs.

A very pretty egg is made of pink veined marble rimmed with gold. Small ivory eggs filled with silver beads make a lovely offering for the devout church woman, and for the practical housewife a little rush basket full of fresh eggs is wonderfully attractive.

A voracious Monster.

The most voracious of all marine beasts of prey is the orca or killer whale. It reaches a length of twenty-five feet, and its jaws bristle with teeth from four to six inches long and as sharp as a dirk knife. Its digestive power is proportioned to the tremendous efficacy of its jaws. It seems also to be an atrocious glutton, as one specimen examined contained in its stomach thirteen porpoises and fourteen seals.

His Reason.

"What reason have you for thinking that the defendant was intoxicated?" "Well, your honor, when his wife called me over I found him in the cellar cutting kindling wood with the lawn mower."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

SOUTHERN FOREST FIRES

Cause the Smoke That Hides the Face of the Sun Here.

The smoke that covered this section of the country like a pall, the first of the week, had come all the way from Louisiana and Mississippi, where forest fires have been raging more than a week, and where millions of dollars' worth of timber has been destroyed. There has been no rain in that section for many weeks, and the greatest alarm has been felt on account of the spread of the flames. There is no stopping them, as they cross rivers with the wind.

they were started in Louisiana from railroad engines and in Mississippi by hunters.

Made Young Again.

"One of Dr. King's New Life Pills each night for two weeks has put me in my 'teens' again," writes D. H. Turner of Dempseytown, Pa. They're the best in the world for Liver, Stomach and Bowels. Purely vegetable. Never gripe. Only 25c at Z. Wayne Griffin & Bro's Drug Store.

One Fare for Pastors' S. S. Institute.

The railroads, recognizing the importance of the Pastors' Sunday School Institute to be held in Louisville, December 15-18, have rate of one fare plus 65 cents for the round trip. All pastors will be entertained, provided their names are sent in by December 10. It is suggested that Sunday Schools send their pastors and pay his way. Considering the magnificent program and splendid array of talent, this ought to bring 1,000 ministers to Louisville. Eight of ten of the finest religious educators of America, including International workers, College Presidents, Theological Seminary Presidents and others will take part in the program. While this is specifically a Pastors' Institute, all Sunday School workers of every class are expected. Board can be secured at reasonable rates. For program and other information address E. A. Fox, 19, Louisville Trust Bldg., Louisville, Ky.
